

Dumbarton's Drums

Tuning: D-F#-A

Key of D

Traditional Scottish

arr. Merv Rowley 2010

(Chorus) Dum - bar - ton's drums, they sound so bon - nie,
 1. A - cross the fields of bound - in' hea - ther,
 2. 'Tis he a - lone that can de - light me,
 3. My John - nie is a hand - some lad - die,

And they re - mind me of my John - nie.
 Dum - bar - ton tolls the hour of pleas - ure.
 His rov - in' eye, it doth in - vite me.
 And though he is Dum - bar - ton's cad - die,

Such fond de - light doth steal up - on me,
 A song of love, that's with - out meas - ure
 And when his ten - - - der arms en - fold me,
 Some day I'll be a cap - tain's la - dy

When John - nie kneels and kiss - es me.
 When John - nie sings his songs tae me.
 The black - est night doth turn and flee.
 When John - nie tends his vows tae me.

The guitar part is written in standard notation with fret numbers and chord diagrams. Chords indicated include D, G, A, A7, G, D, F#m, and D. The vocal line is in treble clef with lyrics written below the notes.

NOTE: Repeat Chorus after each verse.